Outlines and basic principles Senior Program.

It has been known for several decades that most cats over the age of 8 years will develop what we would call: elderly age related diseases. Most well known are Diabetes Mellitus and Chronic Renal Failure. Extensive research has shown that by checking blood-chemistry before the first symptoms appear, treatment of your cat in a timely fashion will ensure a longer lifespan tremendously. A cat's body will wait before showing symptoms until a very late stage. This is part of the normal behavior of cats: Showing disease is a threat in natural conditions, so they will only show symptoms when organ failure cannot be compensated. In most cases it will be too late and precious time will be lost forever.

Dogs show differently but also have a tendency to compensate. Besides Diabetes and Renal Failure, they are more prone to liver-failure due to liver cirrhosis.

In all cases your pet may gradually drink more, but this process occurs so slowly that pet-owners tend to get used to the drinking habits and will not notice this as pathologic.

At European Veterinary Clinic, we are offering you this special senior program you can attend to.

This will involve:

- An extra yearly check up against discount rate (separate from normal vaccination check).
